

VMware Tips, Tricks and Best Practices from BriForum 2009

October 29, 2009

This is the slide deck from the presentation I gave at BriForum 2009. It discusses some thoughts on VMware Infrastructure, including vSphere, around networking practices, storage ideas and DR planning, HA considerations, etc. Lots of good "overview" information. With the session only 75 minutes, I ended up not being able to cover all of the information. Unfortunately, the slides won't do the overall presentation affect and justice - I tend to use the slides and points for discussion, so we did get into some great discussions that you won't get from the presentation.

If you have any questions on anything in there, please don't hesitate to drop me a note.
